DECISION IN BANKRUPTCY

U. S. District Court, District of Oregon, January 11, 1869

In the matter of Muller and Brentano against whom a petition of adjudication in Bankruptcy has been filed

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On December 7 1868 a petition was filed in this Court by a creditor of the above named M and B praying that they be adjudged bank rupts

The claim is stated to be for goods sold and de livered to the alleged bankrupts within the last two years past, of the value of $ 907

Three acts of bankruptcy are charged

1 That said M and B being traders under the firm name of Muller and Brentano and being bankrupt etc on November 7 1868 sold, trans ferred etc their merchandise accounts and as sets to Baum and Wolgennant with intent to de feat etc the operation of the bankrupt act

2 That said M and B on the date aforesaid made the transfer aforesaid to B and W with intent to delay, defraud and hinder their credit ors and

3 That said M. and B on November 10, 1868, paid John Anderson, one of their creditors, with intent to give a preference to such Anderson, and thereby ... and delay the operation of the bankrupt act.

The proof of debt is made by the petitioning creditor, Benjamin Price, and states that the debt was due on and before November 23 1868

The proof of the acts of bankruptcy is made by the attorney in fact of the petitioner (who resides in San Francisco), William J Hyland

It states that on or about November 7 1868 M and B had in store at Jacksonville Oregon, merchandise of the value of $25 000 and that at the same time there was due them from solvent persons in the vicinity of Jacksonville debts, of the value of $12,000 , and that on said last men tioned date said M and B with the intent and purpose alleged in the petition, fraudulently sold and transferred all their stock in trade and things in action to B and W aforesaid

That said B and W were the cousins of M. and B , and the latter was their clerk, and without means, save a small sum due him from M and B for services as clerk, and that the means of Baum was not at all adequate or sufficient to make the purchase aforesaid

That such sale and transfer was without consid eration, except the small sum due Wolgennant, and that said B and W conspired with M and B by means of such pretended and fraudulent sale and transfer to defraud the creditors of said M and B and defeat the operation of the bank rupt act

That said B and W are wholly irresponsible ; that they are disposing of such merchandise be low its value and at auction, and are collecting the debts due M and B and if not prevented will dispose of said property so that the creditors of said M and B will receive no benefit there from

That M and B are indebted to persons in San Francisco to the amount of about $45 000 and to other persons in the State of Oregon a further large sum, to affiant unknown

That these parties all reside at Jacksonville, within a days journey of California, and that if B and W are suffered to remain in possession of the property it will be disposed of and the parties will leave the State and go beyond the jurisdiction of the Court with the proceeds and that said M and B are about to depart from the State and will do so, unless prevented by the order and war rant of this Court.

On December 9 on the application of counsel for the petitioning creditor, an order to show cause —form No 57—was allowed and also an order directing the issuance of a writ of injunction, forbidding M and B, and B and M from inter fering with or disposing of the property and ac counts of the alleged bankrupts, and of a warrant commanding the Marshal to take possession of such property and keep the same until the further order of the Court

On December 29, B. and W by their attorney filed a motion to dissolve the injunction and to discharge the property from the warrant The motion is made upon the papers already men tioned in the case and the affidavit of O Jacobs, of Jacksonville

The affiant states that he knows the parties and that the injunction and warrant herein were served about Dec 15, 1868 That the goods and merchandise formerly belonging to M and B , were at the service of said injunction in the ex clusive possession of B and W , as purchasers from said M and B , and had been in such exclusive possession since November 7, 1868 and that said goods and merchandise were taken from the pos session of B and W by the messenger, under the warrant aforesaid, and that they are of the value of about $25 000

The grounds of the motion are set forth therein as follows

1 There was no authority for the Marshal or messenger to seize property in the hands of these parties

2 The writ of injunction and order to take possession were issued without notice

3 The order to take possession of goods was not made under any law of the United States

4 The notice to show cause was and is return able in January, 1868—a date prior to the act of bankruptcy complained of

5 The petition fails to show at what time the act of bankruptcy was committed

6 The charge of bankruptcy is made upon in formation and belief—there being no positive charge

7 The proof of indebtedness does not show that the debt of petitioning creditor existed at the time the alleged act of bankruptcy was com mitted

Counsel for the petitioning creditor objects to the hearing of this motion at this time, because, the order to show cause not being returned there is no proof before the Court that it has been served upon the debtors

In support of this objection he cites the last clause of section 40 of the act I do not think the clause supports the conclusion

The prohibition of "further proceedings" is in tended of proceedings upon the petition and against the debtor, and not of collateral proceed ings by or against third persons or even the debtor

The only evidence before the Court as to the service of the injunction or the execution of the warrant, is contained in the affidavit of Jacobs Neither of these writs has been returned The order to show cause is not returnable until Janu ary 7 The order allowing the warrant to take possession to issue, speaks of the goods and ef fects of the alleged bankrupts, and not those of B and W The warrant, I presume conforms to the order in this respect I must also presume that the messenger has obeyed the warrant and taken into his possession the goods and effects of M and B in whosesoever hands he found them and and not otherwise If by mistake or otherwise he took the goods of another he is liable to the party injured upon his official bond This is no more than the responsibility which the common law devolved upon every officer to whom an exe cution against property was directed He had to determine at his peril what was the property of the defendant in the writ and what was not

Under section 40 of the act the messenger under the direction of the warrant is to take possession provisionally of all the property and effects of the debtor And it makes no difference in whose hands he may find them This is a ques tion of fact for the officer to determine for himself, subject to his responsibility Taking the affidavit of Jacobs it appears that this property was in the possession of B and W when seized by the mes senger, but it does not follow that it was not at the same time the property of M and B The question cannot be made or decided upon this mo tion Certainly upon the statements in the peti tion and accompanying proofs it was not the property of B and W and the affidavit of Jacobs conceding what B and W are called upon to show rather confirms this conclusion than otherwise The first ground of the motion is thus disposed of

The second ground is well founded in fact but immaterial in law Injunctions in bankrupt cy, at least when issued in the primary stage of the proceedings under section 40 of the act may be allowed and issued without notice The pro vision in the Judiciary act ... B ... Dig ... forbidding the writ to be granted ... in equity without notice to the adverse party does not apply to proceedings in the district court un der the bankrupt act [Bright Fed. Dig ... ; Int Rev Rec 109 American Law Review Oct '68 ; 171] The last citation is to the matter of Wal lace, decided in this court, upon able argument and careful consideration Upon further argument the conclusion seems to be sound in principle and ... authority The rule in the ... requiring notice in all cases ... is an anomalous one and if applied to the summary ... under the bankrupt act would ... render it nugatory Notice to B and W of the application for the injunction in this case would have been notice to them to leave the jurisdiction with the property or its proceeds which they could have done ... disposed ... Doubtless the court may require notice to be given to the adverse party and even that the applicant shall give security for damages whenever it thinks the ends of justice or the security of par ties require it

These ... of the goods was not taken under the order but the warrant which issued pursuant to the order ... authorize the allowance of the order or the issuance of this warrant notice to the adverse party was not necessary On the ar gument nothing was shown in support of this ob jection ... further can there be

In support of the third ground of the motion counsel shows that the order allowing the issu ance of the warrant excepts from its operation such "goods as are exempt from the operation of the act of Congress entitled, 'An act to establish an uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States,' approved March 2, 1868 " There being no bankrupt act of that date, the conclu sion is that the order for the warrant to take possession was not made under any law of the United States This is an extremely technical objection and admits of a sufficient and equally technical answer The order for the warrant does not profess to be made under the act of March 2 1868 but it only excepts from the ope ration of such warrant the goods exempt by that act There being no bankrupt act of such date the exemption is nugatory and the warrant to take possession is without qualification in this re spect But the recital of the title of the Bank rupt act in any proceeding is mere matter of form The recital in this order gives the date of the act incorrectly—1868—for 1867 But this immaterial mistake can in no way affect the legality of the order The order would have been sufficient without stating the title or date of the act. The court takes judicial notice of the acts of Con gress, and they need not be set forth or specially referred to in any proceeding before it.

In support of this ground of the motion it is also urged that the act (Sec 40) does not author ize the issue of a warrant against the goods of the alleged bankrupt alone but that the warrant cannot issue unless it be against his person and also " to take possession provisionally of all the property and effects of the debtor," as well

This construction of the act does not seem to me to be warranted by the language or object of the section If the showing be such as section 40 requires the warrant may issue against the person and goods or either of them. The greater includes the less and neither the alleged bank rupts or B and W , can or ought to be heard to complain that the petitioning creditor has been satisfied to take process against the goods only, because he was entitled to it against the person also

If, in fact, the order and warrant had been for the arrest of both the person and goods, the latter might have been executed against both or either as the petitioning creditor might direct

The fourth ground of the motion is based upon the assertion therein, that the order to the debtor to show cause is by mistake made returnable in January, 1868 instead of 1869 The order has not yet been ... there is no evidence be fore the court that it is returnable at an imposs ible date Nor is it apparent, if it be admitted that the order is erroneous in this ..., how the fact can in any way affect the merits of this motion The jurisdiction of the court to enjoin B and W from interfering with the goods of the debtor or to issue a warrant to take provisional possession of them, is not dependent upon the service on the alleged bankrupts of a proper order to show cause

As to the fifth ground of the motion, the peti tion avers that the several acts of bankruptcy complained of were committed "within six calen dar months next preceding the date of the peti tion" and on or about a certain day in November, 1868 This is sufficient and, if it were not, to show the actual day, it certainly is, to show that they were committed within six months before filing the petition and that therefore this court had jurisdiction to adjudge M and B bankrupts on account of them Whether the particular day within the six months is stated or not, does not matter so far as this motion is concerned When the alleged bankrupts appear to make defense to this petition, the question can be made as to whether the particular day is sufficiently stated and not otherwise or before

As to the sixth ground of the motion it is not well founded in fact The charge of bankruptcy is not made upon information and belief The allegation in the petition is positive and unquali fied as to the transfer of the stock of merchandise and book accounts to B and W , and also the payment to Anderson with intent to prefer him The same is true of the deposition to the acts of bankruptcy True, the petition states that in addition to the merchandise and accounts there was transferred "all the available assets" of M and B and this averment as to the assets is upon information and belief. This averment is a mere make weight, and it is perfectly immaterial whether or it is in the petition or not. The allegations as to the transfer of the merchandise and accounts and of the payment with intent to give a prefer ence are either of them sufficient allegations of acts of bankruptcy Nor is there anything in the act, or the orders and forms, or the nature of the proceeding, which requires that the allegations in the petition either as to the debt or the acts of bankruptcy, should be made upon the personal knowledge of the petitioner The petition must be made by the creditor and in most instances can be made upon information and belief alone In addition to the petition there must be a deposition to the debt and the act of bankruptcy In these it may be proper that the witness should speak from his own knowledge or at least disclose the grounds of his belief or the sources of his in formation Much will depend upon the circum stances of the particular case

By the seventh ground of the motion it is as serted that the debt of the petitioning creditor was not in existence when the acts of bankruptcy complained, were committed

Under the English bankrupt act it was held that a commission ought not to be granted on the pe tition of a creditor whose debt was not in exist ence when the act of bankruptcy was committed [1 Bac Ab 528] This statute [6 Geo 4 c 16, Sec 12] allowed the commission to issue upon the petition of any creditor or creditors of the alleged bankrupt [1 Bac, Ab 532] The act of March 2 1867 allows any creditor whose debt is of suffi cient amount and provable under the act to main tain the petition to have his debtor adjudged a bankrupt [Sec 29] A debt contracted after the act of bankruptcy is provable under the act [Sec 19] The letter of the English and American statutes are not materially different in this respect Taken literally they both would permit a petition to be maintained by a creditor whose debt arose after the commission of the act of bankruptcy complained of The American statute ought I think to be construed as the English one so as not to permit a petition to be maintained by a creditor whose debt was contracted after the act of bankruptcy happened This is in accordance with the decision of this court in Burk s case that a creditor should not be heard to object to the dis charge of a voluntary bankrupt for matters which occurred before he became such creditor The construction is supported by the familiar princi ple that no one ought to be allowed to complain of that which does not injure him In case the act of bankruptcy was secret and unknown to the creditor at the time of contracting his debt the rule might not apply

The proof of debt in this case and the petition substantially show that M and B on Novem ber 23, 1868 and before were indebted to the pe titioner in the sum of near $1 000 The petition was verified on the last mentioned date and the acts were committed some days before in the same month The indebtedness arose upon the sale and delivery of goods prior to and within two years of the date of the petition, to be paid for upon request The allegations of the petition are framed upon the idea that the debt did not be come due until payment was requested and the the commencement of this proceeding was a re quest This is probably a correct conclusion in the premises But the question is not when the debt became due and payable, but when did it commence to exist It commenced with the de livery of the goods or any portion of them equa in value to the sum of $250 The proof and petition were made in San Francisco and they are very slovenly and unskilfully prepared in this respect as we ... some others But I think it a fair in ference from the facts stated and the nature of the transaction that the debt of the petitioner or at least $250 ... existed before November 7, 1868— the date of the first acts of bankruptcy

This disposes of the motion It is disallowed I have considered this motion as if Baum and Wolgennant were entitled to make these objec tions but as to the 3d, 6th and 7th grounds of the motion I do not think they have any right to be heard The questions raised on these points are between the petitioning creditor and the alleged bankrupts and not B and W In the course of the argument counsel for B and W have insisted that this is a special proceeding purely statutory, and that the act must be taken most strictly against the creditor and in favor of the bankrupt In my judgment this view of the matter is not sup ported by reason or authority The act does not attempt to punish the bankrupt, but to distribute his property fairly and impartially between his creditors to whom in justice it belongs It is remedial and seeks to protect the honest creditor from being overreached and defrauded by the un scrupulous It is intended to relieve the honest but unfortunate debtor from the burden of liabili ties which he cannot discharge, and allow him to commence the business of life anew The power to pass bankrupt laws is one of the ... of power to the National Government, and his tory teaches that the want of a uniform law on this subject throughout the States, was one of the prominent causes which led to the ... of the constitutional convention and consequent formation and adoption of the Federal Constitu tion

Such a statute is not to be construed strictly, as if it were an obscure or special penal enactment, and this was the sixteenth instead of the nineteenth century The act establishes a system and regu lates in all their details, the relative rights and duties of debtor and creditor Such an act must be construed—as indeed should all acts "ac cording to the fair import of its terms with a view to effect its objects and to promote justice."

How the Big Debt is Melting Away.

(From the New York Times.)

Our civil war closed in April, 1865, and had cost us over twenty three hundred millions of dollars ($2,366 955,077) During three years and seven months since, with a third of the Union desolated by war, with all the losses of working hands which the struggle entailed, with the enor mous destruction of capital in every part of the country we were enabled to pay off over six hun dred millions (630,451,125) of war debts previous ly due and reduce our actual debt by over four hundred and seventy millions, ($470,256,649,) and at the same time advance over forty two millions ($42,194,000) to the Pacific roads, and pay $7,- 200,000 for Alaska, besides paying the expenses of the Government and the interest on the debt, which alone reached the enormous sum of over one thousand millions of dollars ($1,142,- 525,411,) or an average of $318,826,021 per an num To accomplish this grand result, there had to be raised from all sources, the immense sum of over sixteen hundred millions of dollars (1,662,- 405 042) in three years and a half

We may fairly challenge the history of the world for such extraordinary production of wealth after such a destructive struggle. To pay over and above our ... the sum of $170,000,000 annually toward the debt and national improvements, is a result that not our most sanguine financier could have expected, and to find us in three years and a half owing $470,- ... less is something that may well give us confidence as to the future entire payment of our obligations. We have struck off nearly all the direct taxes from the ... of the country, except those on the manufacture of dis tilled spirits, fermented liquors and tobacco We have doubled the tax on distilled spirits, and we have suffered under a most ... and dis honest civil service, and yet during the first ... year of 1868 our receipts from internal revenue were over one hundred and ninety-one millions ($191 087,509), and will for 1869 amount ... to over one hundred and forty six millions ($146 209,044) This, however, is less than half what our receipts were in 1866, which amounted then to $309,224,813 The receipts from the tariff are even more encouraging, amounting to more than one hundred and sixty four millions ($164 464 599) and being only a falling off of some fifteen millions since 1866 They were then $179 044,651.

Thus even with the present low figures for in ternal revenue (and they can certainly be ad vanced fifty per cent by a thorough and honest collection of taxes,) we may count on an annual income of three hundred millions This ought to be enough to pay a good sum each year on the principal of our national debt, and all the current and reasonable expenses of our Government. Mr. McCulloch thinks that our civil ... for the next ten years ought not to cost us ... than $40 000 000 per annum, that the expenses of the War Department should be brought down to $35, 000 000 and those of the navy to $20,000,000 annually, and the interest of the whole debt then funded at an average rate of five per cent., or $125 000,000 per annum

These estimates would leave us $50,000,000 a year to pay toward the principal of the debt, and considering that we have been paying annually over three times that amount the last three years for the above object it is not a great burden to be put upon the nation

"THAT'S MY WIFE THAT STOPS IN THIS ROOM WITH ME."—The habitues of one of our favorite hotels were very much amused the other day. A fresh married couple arrived from the country The lady was young, plump pretty, and although as pure as snow and as chaste as ice," seems to have conveyed the idea to certain parties in the house that she was one of those who "come not of the earth but yet are on it " The husband was an honest, ingenuous chap and fearfully verdant in the ways of the world as will be seen. The pair had been at the house some twenty-four hours when the bridegroom walked up to the clerk, and remarked That s my wife that stops in the room with me

Yes I suppose so ' was the blank reply of the clerk

Well I thought I d mention it," ... Mr Verdant so you wouldn't think it strange in me complaining—I never like to find fault, you know—but we're kinder bothered, and don't hardly know what to do We've only been here since yesterday, and my wife has been invited to go to ride three times and to the minstrel show likewise and just now a sleek looking chap knocked at the door and wanted to know if she was alone and another actually inquired if ' that countryman she had on the string was gone !' " I ve no doubt these young men mean well," continued he 'but they are too dogoned polite for me Though I s pose it a city fashions."

Reducing the Interest

Th[e] Herald [illegible] that any plan for [illegible] the [illegible] new ones bearing a less rate of interest contemplated an increase of the principal [illegible]. We think it likely that the Herald has never understood [illegible] if it will consider the matter for a moment it will be able to comprehend [illegible] reason why the [illegible] funded at a lower rate of interest without increasing the principal [illegible] has been offered at a lower rate of interest than we now pay [illegible] holders of [se]curities would [illegible] to surrender [illegible] they have and take in their stead a security of the same amount bearing less interest. The Government can[not] [illegible] unless it is ready to [illegible] or the holders are willing to surrender [illegible]. The Government cannot redeem and the holder will of course decline to exchange a six per cent for a four per cent bond This is the practical fact, and it ought to be obvious to everybody Therefore if the interest is reduced the principal will necessarily be increased to balance the abatement of interest In other words in the present condition of our credit a bond bearing four per cent interest will not sell for as much in the money markets as a bond bearing the rate of interest now paid In negotiating a new loan at a reduced rate of interest the principal would therefore be expanded The only way to have it otherwise would be for the Government to notify the holders of its securities that it would compel them to take the new bonds for the old, which would be a repudiation or confiscation of the debt to the extent of the reduction of the interest For example if the Government should compel a creditor to give up a bond on which it has agreed to pay six per cent interest, and receive in lieu of it a bond bearing only four per cent, two per cent would be repudiated The Herald might admire this, but the American people would never tolerate it The only way to reduce our interest is to be honest and make our credit so good that a new loan will sell in the market for a lower rate of interest than our securities [illegible]. Owing to Democratic on[slaughts] upon the debt, a new loan would not now be taken at a reduced rate of interest [illegible] the principal should be increased pro[portionate]ly. This is the difficulty to be met on this subject The Herald appears to forget that the contract between the Government and the public creditor is one which requires the concurrence of both parties

Hudson's Bay Company's Claims.—It appears that the Hudson's Bay Company with the [illegible] for which it was always celebrated, has added another million dollars to its [claim] for the property in Oregon and Washington Territory. This swells the whole claim to six millions. Whenever the British Government renders full indemnity for the ravages of rebel-English pirates upon our commerce, our Government should in turn allow a fair compensation for these possessory rights of the Hudson's Bay Company But no such [illegible] claim as six million dollars will be seriously considered Of the present state of the litigation, the San Francisco Times says: "Mr Cushing has finished and put in his argument in the case, and they are now in the [hands] of Mr Day, for the close on the part of the claimants The opening argument of the English lawyer was taken up in a great [measure] in the abuse of the American witnesses, [and especi]ally Mr George Gibbs, of the Smithsonian Institute, who, in all matters relating to the northwest coast, is considered as [an authority]. Having a thorough knowledge of the whole subject, his detailed statement of the facts was so utterly damaging to the claim, that the lawyer, in sheer desperation made the silly attempt to persuade the Commission that it could not be relied upon. Cushing retorted upon him with great severity As to the merits of the case, Day will have hard work in replying If he takes the time he is [allowed], the case will go before the Commission about the middle of February

Operations of the United States Mint.—The annual report of the director of the U. S. States Mint, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, has been submitted From a perusal of the report we find that the deposits of bullion at the mint and branches during the fiscal year were as follows Gold $25 472,894 82; silver $1 693 423 88 total deposits, $27,166,318 60 Deducting from this total the redeposits of bullion or bars made at one branch of the mint and deposited at another for coinage the amount will be $24 591,325 84. The coinage for the same period was as follows Gold coin pieces, 176 139 value, $18,114,434; unparted and fine gold bars $6 026,810 06; silver coin pieces 3,321 047, value $1,136,650, silver bars, $456,236 48, nickel, copper and bronze coinage, pieces, 45,438,000, value, $1,713,385 Total number of pieces struck, 49,735,840. Total value of coinage, $27,447 606 54 Considerably more than half this coinage was at the San Francisco branch mint

Valuable Mine.—During the past year the Eureka mine at Grass Valley California has sent out 18 000 tons of quartz and has now 1,000 tons on the surface and 2 000 ready for hoisting The average gross yield a few months since was $31 and the expense $11 leaving $20 net and by these figures the gross yield of 18 8 should be $5 8,000 and the net $360 000 The sulphurets are about one per cent of the [illegible] and yield about $200 per ton, The Nevada Gazette says a run of twelve days preceding the 19th ult produced $25 200, or a little more than $2 000 per day The lowest level is 563 feet from the surface and the vein there is 3½ feet wide

Dr Atkinson on New York.—We have received a pamphlet copy of a very able address delivered on the 3d December by Dr Atkinson, of this city before the New York Chamber of Commerce on "the possession settlement climate and resources of Oregon and the northwest coast" A great many valuable facts relating to this great [illegible] are embodied in the D[octor's] [illegible] of which are distributed and arranged in such a way as to give a stranger a very competent idea of this part of our country Such a publication scattered through the Eastern States must be of great advantage of Oregon

Democratic Testimony The Round Table which has been a supporter of the Democratic candidates says that it is a notorious and now proves to be a scientific fact, that the great bulk of eloquent speaking and clever writing in this canvass has been done for the Republican side With the exceptions that may be counted on the fingers the Democrats have really had neither spokesmen or journalists whose abilities are worth a straw to their party

The Burnt River Mines

An Owyhee paper the Tidal Wave gives an interesting account of the mining [illegible] in Baker county in this State It is claimed that the Willow Creek mines would have proved very remunerative last year if water could have been obtained to work them The fifty mile ditch of Packwood & Co promises to obviate this difficulty in time but the great length of the work necessarily prolongs the [illegible] small streams that are tapped by the ditch in its progress furnish but a small amount of water [illegible] the delay some of the boys from Owyhee struck out [illegible] in search of new diggings and from the Tidal Wave [illegible] an account of the explorations of Adam Vasall and his company and their findings in that paradise [illegible]

About the 1st of August they left a [illegible] they had on the Burnt River ditch [illegible] which they had managed to sink all the money they had [illegible] moved up the South Fork on a prospecting tour One day's journey up the South Fork they encamped in a thicket of service berries where they remained long enough to dry sufficient of the berries for winter use when they proceeded up the stream to a tributary known as Bull Run [illegible] they found good prospects and went to work On the 13th of August nine men had collected on the stream and on that day formed the district of Bull Run, elected Charles Lynde recorder located claims and proceeded to the business of mining in earnest They find their diggings to average about eight dollars to the man and as they are undisturbed by outsiders have no trouble to hold all the ground they wish, and are really a happy and contented little colony undisturbed by any of the vanities frivolities and gay ties of fashion living on the products of the soil they have no grocer's bills, bar bills doctor's bills, church contributions nor other enlightened schemes for absorbing their earnings like Cooper's fabled inhabitants of Vulcan's Peak in an unknown ocean they have no cares nor vexations, beyond the simple exertion it takes to gather sufficient food to sustain life Their amusements are all innocent, and consist chiefly in the chase for which an abundance of game affords ample opportunity Like Cooper's happy colony, they are about to be invaded Adam has heard that three more men, and one if not two, women are on their way trying to spy out their quiet retreat, and that the apple of discord is about to be introduced lawyers, doctors and preachers are expected to follow Then, farewell peace, farewell contentment farewell innocence

Adam and his simple companions like his ancient namesake are happy in their little Eden, but Eve is on her way thither in a very Pandora, to open the box of evils that are to fly abroad over Bull Run and Job's Creek to set the inhabitants by the ears

Adam and his party have also taken claims on Job's creek, which prospects quite as well as Bull Run They are erecting hydraulics there paying $75 per M for lumber There are other unprospected creeks in the vicinity which may afford work for a number of people next summer The place has been infested by Indians, until Gen Crook corralled them last summer The valleys are described as fertile, and covered with a luxuriant growth of grass, the streams abound with fish, the ponds with ducks geese and other water fowl. So that had not women discovered their retreat, this little colony might have lived, grown rich and died in peace, unknown and unmolested

Creditable.—Eastern papers remark that every day brings something new to the credit of General Grant Every one knew him to be brave and honest, but it now appears that he has so much self respect that "he won't speak to the President" A man who has such a just sense of the pernicious influence of bad company and "evil communications," may be trusted.

The Greatest Monster

AN INHUMAN QUANTRELL LIVING IN NORTH CAROLINA

It seems there is one man living whose deeds are as infamous as those of a Forrest, a Wirz, or a Quantrell James A Kieth, formerly a Colonel in the Confederate army, now in jail at Raleigh, North Carolina, has been accused and does not deny the commission of one of the most fiendish outrages ever perpetrated upon this continent In 1863 the loyal people living in Laurel Valley conceived that the Confederate authorities did not give them their fair share of salt Uniting with the Confederate element, they proceeded to organize a raid upon the Kanawha Valley salt works which proved successful under the lead of Captain Kirk, of East Tennessee Captain Kirk's men were fired with liquor furnished them by the people living near the works who were seized with terror upon the approach of the raiders They committed a number of outrages Disappointed in not obtaining a sufficient quantity of salt they sacked the town and retired

Colonel Kieth organized a party and in his turn proceeded to Laurel Valley surrounded a portion of the valley where he knew his game was safe and without being over particular as to whether those he captured were concerned in the salt raid proceeded to wreak his revenge Capturing thirteen persons who were assembled at the house of a man named Chandler he deliberately took them to a secluded spot, and in spite of the appeals and imploring cries of old and young shot them to death Women old men and boys were murdered without giving them permission to say a prayer Standing his victims in line this monster of the 19th century ordered his command to fire upon them Nine fell dead at the first discharge but the four little boys were not killed outright They were shot a second time while trying to clasp the knees of their murderers Kieth ordered the dead bodies to be covered with stones and thus they were left

Nothing was known of this horrible occurrence for some time but the facts finally reached Governor Vance's ears who immediately demanded of the then Confederate Secretary of War Seddon the arrest trial and death of Kieth The trial was a farce Kieth was freed after a time and immediately placing himself at the head of a band of outlaws terrorized over the country Visiting the house of a Mrs Franklin he shot her eldest son dragged her boy of fifteen from under the bed where he took refuge, killed him also then killed her third son who in the meantime ran out of the house For this and similar atrocities, Kieth has been formally indicted and now that he is securely caged the authorities expect some considerable trouble in protecting his life until the day of his trial, which will soon take place

New York Jan 11—The steamship [illegible] which arrived yesterday from Liverpool [illegible] encountered a very tempestuous voyage Mr Maltreaux the officer of the ship was swept overboard and drowned [illegible] the others also were washed overboard at the same time but were rescued Several of the crew and passengers were badly injured [illegible] same [illegible] the [illegible] boats were swept away The [illegible] hundred passengers [illegible] The voyage was one of the most severe [illegible] experienced

The Negro Disturbances in Virginia

New York Jan 11—The Herald's Norfolk [illegible] Richmond state that the negroes are quiet [illegible]

Democratic Operations in New York

New York Jan 11 It is stated that the Congressional Investigation Committee have a pile of testimony sufficient to hang politically many of the prominent [illegible] they have evidence to prove that not less than thirty thousand fraudulent votes were cast in the city by the [illegible] was reduced [illegible] had not received such a sudden check by Marshal Murray [illegible] general applicat[ion] in all the large cities Several of the witnesses testify that they voted from nine to thirty times Each of them testify because those who employed them would not pay them according to agreement The committee have summoned nearly 400 witnesses upon the one question of issuing fraudulent naturalization papers These papers were offered by hundreds and [illegible]

West Indies

New York Jan [illegible] A Port au Prince letter of the [illegible] reports Salnave in possession of the Merogany at [illegible] It is thought the successes in the south hastened the surrender of Jackmel and Jeremie, and will restore the authority of the government throughout the Peninsula

The rebels in the North still hold St Marie It is reported that they received arms and ammunition from parties in Boston and Savannah

It is stated that Jesman who went to Europe to contract a loan for President Baez of St Domingo, has returned unsuccessful His failure to obtain money will probably cause the downfall of Baez's administration

Funeral of General Rousseau.

New Orleans Jan 9—The funeral of Gen Rousseau this afternoon was largely attended notwithstanding the unpleasant weather The services were conducted at Christ's Church by the Bishop of Louisiana The pall bearers were Gens Hatch Mower Beckwith, Babcock Porter, Tompkins and McLure of the Regular army, and Gens Steadman Herron Lee, Millan Bussey, and Gurney formerly of the volunteer service, with an equal number of the Masonic fraternity

Cuban Items.

New York, Jan 10—The Herald's Havana special dispatch says Gen Ceobedes Provisional President of the Republican government and Senor Augustera were with the insurgents near St Iago de Cuba, on the 1st They have proclaimed the emancipation of the slaves They complain that the people of the western department have not heeded the call of revolution and that the Junta at Havana is furnishing no money

Gen Quesada is said to have landed from Nassau with 80 men and 3,000 rifles

Puerto Principe is still surrounded by small bands of insurgents Prostration and gloom prevail in the city The shops are closed and many arrests have been made An engagement is reported at Culum, in which the government troops were defeated with heavy loss

Storm in New York.

New York, Jan 10—An extensive storm has prevailed along the Hudson for the last week All the streams are greatly swollen and crossing is very dangerous from Rhinebeck to this city River men fear a sudden movement of the ice, unless the weather soon grows cold

New York Items

Among the witnesses said to have been examined before the Congressional Committee now investigating the election frauds are Gov Hoffman Judge McCann Wm W Tweed and others

Judge Busteed expressed the conviction that the Committee on the Judiciary will dismiss the charges against him as unfounded

Sheriff O'Brien publishes a card in the World relative to his arresting of the witnesses before the Congressional Committee He says he asked permission to arrest three men and take them to the station house, as he knew them to be thieves, which permission the Committee accorded, whereupon he took the men He accuses Marshall Murray of bringing these to swear away respectable men's characters

James Logan, charged with the murder of Chas M Rogers, who last evening surrendered himself to the police continues to manifest apparent unconsciousness and professes the utmost confidence in his ability to prove his innocence From statements made by the detectives to-day it would seem that they began to entertain doubts as to the guilt of Logan, and think the circumstances pointing to him as the guilty party are susceptible of an explanation compatible with his declarations of innocence

More Difficulties in the South

Memphis Jan 10—The Appeal's Selma, Arkansas correspondent says that on Friday night twenty militia of Col Arson's command entered that town and completely gutted the stores A list of losses is given amounting in the aggregate to nearly $7 000 On the same night they robbed two stores at Monte Alto The towns of Handburg Ashley county and Warren, in Bradley county shared a like fate

Tenure of Office Act Repealed

Washington Jan 11—Mr Butler's bill for the repeal of the Tenure of Office act has been introduced and is being put through under the previous question by a large majority

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

Paris Jan 10—The conference for the solution of the Eastern question met yesterday Their session began at four o'clock and lasted till eleven The Greek and Turkish representatives both manifested a very conciliatory disposition Peaceful results of the deliberations are confidently expected The next session will be held on Tuesday

The official journal says the ambassadors of China now in this city (Paris) are receiving every honor and attention It declares Burlingame's position entirely satisfactory to the Emperor The Embassadors will have a formal audience with the Emperor at an early day

St Petersburg Jan 8—The Gazette of Bourse says Prince Gortschakoff has addressed a note to the French Government showing the necessity for the latter to explain the conduct of the present Minister at Constantinople

London Jan 11—Indications from the first day of the Conference on the Eastern question leave little if any doubt of ultimate success The Turkish government through its representation has consented to maintain the present status until the close of the Conference The general impression is that but one more session will be held and that a war between Turkey and Greece will be obviated

Constantinople Jan 11—The Sublime Porte has officially congratulated the people of the Danubian principalities on their loyalty during the recent [illegible]

[illegible] Jan 11—Recent disturbances in various parts of the kingdom fomented by political agitators have been suppressed The unpopular taxes are now being collected without difficulty

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

[illegible] & TILTON'S NEW BANK BUILDING —This building is undoubtedly by far the handsomest structure in this city or State and we doubt if there be a handsomer one on the Pacific coast. The designs were drawn last winter by Mr. John Nestor architect who has also had charge [illegible] construction. The [illegible] from his designs [illegible] of the exterior iron work [illegible] finish the doors [illegible] etc [illegible] made in [illegible] and [illegible] The following description is written up from notes [illegible] by him at our request. The building has one [illegible] feet on First street [illegible] feet on Stark street, is two stories high with a basement [illegible] depth. The foundation walls are twenty [illegible] thick, constructed of hard [illegible] laid in hydraulic cement up to the level of the [illegible] The water tables or sills [illegible] which form the foundation of the iron work [illegible] quarries. They extend entirely around the building. The exterior finish of the first and second stories are of wrought iron cast in ornamental patterns. The Stark street front has sixty-six [illegible] pilasters standing out [illegible] the face of the wall from three [illegible] First street front has twenty five pilasters with Corinthian and [illegible] and Doric bases. The [illegible] a beautiful effect. Between the first and second [illegible] broken but [illegible] with [illegible] blocks and mouldings broken around each projecting pier and [illegible] circular ornamental ventilator [illegible] the [illegible] with the joists supporting the second floor [illegible] with the interior apartments. At the top of the second story is a heavy projecting cornice supported with beautifully carved brackets with mouldings and [illegible] to correspond. The fire walls support twenty [illegible] five feet high, which also serve as top and fire flues. The entrance at corner of [illegible] is a broad doorway fashioned after the [illegible] styles. On either side stands a cast iron [illegible] ornamented, and supporting a heavy iron [illegible] also profusely ornamented. Over this is a [illegible] by two carved brackets representing [illegible] the brackets is a circular cast iron plate [illegible] with the [illegible] bearing the motto [illegible] the [illegible] is a large [illegible] the top, and surmounting the whole are two [illegible] representing Mercury and Neptune and [illegible] copias. The corner room on first floor is to [illegible] as a bank. On the south side is a store room [illegible] and in the rear of the bank fronting Stark. Both have plate glass fronts. The entrance [illegible] is by a flight of stairs from Stark street, [illegible] bank and the store rooms. The second story [illegible] into six rooms provided with every modern [illegible] and beautifully finished with wainscottings [illegible] Oregon, cedar and mahogany doors set [illegible] ground glass. These rooms are lighted [illegible] and fifteen large plate glass windows. [illegible] room is twenty five by seventy eight feet, [illegible] high; is lighted by eight large plate-glass [illegible] three pairs of doors, the window sashes are walnut and hung with wire cord to silver [illegible]; the doors are of beautiful mahogany, two [illegible] thick and are hung and trimmed with [illegible] plated hardware. The room is wainscotted [illegible] cedar, finely varnished. The door and window [illegible] of the same wood. It makes a very beautiful finish. In the centre of the room stands an vault, twelve by fourteen feet encased complete [illegible] iron paneled to correspond with the finish. In the rear of the vault are two offices. [illegible] counter extends from the front of [illegible] within ten feet of the front. In front of this [illegible] block marble floor. The walls are to be [illegible] ceiling is richly ornamented with ribs and [illegible] of Paris. The bank furniture will all be [illegible] kind and taking the suite of rooms as a [illegible] anything of the kind on the Pacific [illegible] and cost of ornamentation and finish. The [illegible] a beautiful monument to his own [illegible] taste. Mr Nestor's reputation as an architect, did not wait on this building, for he [illegible] well established it long since. Much of the [illegible] structure to be seen in Portland is attributable [illegible] was first, we believe, to introduce the present style of shop fronts, plate glass, etc., etc., [illegible] is due him for an improved style and [illegible] ventilation. He is about to leave for a [illegible] on [illegible] but we shall hope to [illegible] us in a few months, and we expect [illegible] and safe journey

ARRIVAL—SMALL POX RUMORS —The steamer [illegible] arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning [illegible] immediately rumors became plentiful through[illegible] city that she had on board, during the passage [illegible] cases of small pox, and that Capt. Metzger [illegible] of the officers of the ship had been left at San [illegible] sick with the small pox. It is true that the [illegible] mentioned, were left at home when the steamer [illegible] that they were both sick, but it was not then [illegible] whether they had small pox. It is not true, so [illegible] learn that the steamer brought any case of [illegible] is it true that there are any cases at present [illegible]. There was a report, a few days since, that [illegible] brought a case when she was here before [illegible] patient was left in the China house just the [illegible] barrel factory, but this was doubtless [illegible]

[illegible] BURGLARY —Some time during Saturday [illegible] attempted to effect an entrance into Mr [illegible]'s auction store, by digging a hole [illegible] rear wall. The bricks were taken out to the [illegible] a foot, but the burglar [illegible] to have become [illegible] and quit the job. In the darkness, however, [illegible] started in just at the partition wall, and [illegible] knowing it, had a distance of about a hun[illegible] before he could finish the hole so as to get [illegible] bat, or some tool of that sort, and a crow [illegible] the work. The rogue made beginnings [illegible] places before he found a place to suit [illegible] says that if anybody really desires [illegible] store in the night, and will call up his [illegible] furnish him the key to the door—provided [illegible] the fellow a suitable [illegible] be on [illegible]

PROSPECTUS

THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD.

On the FIRST OF JANUARY, 1869, THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD will be revived as a first-class Commercial, Daily Newspaper, independent in politics, under the Editorial control of its former Editor JOHN NUGENT assisted by a thoroughly efficient and able Staff. The Herald will be issued as a Morning Paper, but there will be an Afternoon Edition prepared for the interior of the State and for Nevada, with the Market, Stock and Local Reports up to the hour of going to press

It is the design of the proprietors to establish the best newspaper that by the aid of unlimited means and the highest order of talent in all its departments—can be published on this coast, making it, in all essential particulars, as [illegible] to the Mercantile and [illegible] Public, and as valuable as a [illegible] as any of the first-class New York Journals. It will be the chief aim of its proprietors [illegible] of its information on all matters of Business to give it a staple reputation for thorough reliability as a Commercial and Business Paper, at the same time that in the quality of its [illegible] in the other departments—Law, Literature, Local Intelligence, and other features that go to make up a Daily Morning Paper—it shall likewise be kept up to the [illegible] standard.

While the vast Agricultural Interest and the rapidly growing Manufacturing Industry of the State will be earnestly [illegible], as well Editorially as in the News Department, that interest which drew hither the first grand tide of Immigration will be fostered with special care. Everything worthy to be known in connection with Mining Enterprises, and all inventions and discoveries calculated to enhance the profits or stimulate the labor of the Miner shall be duly chronicled and described.

Mr Nugent, whose ability as an Editor is sufficiently known, will be assisted by gentlemen whose judgments have been educated and matured by long and varied experience in their respective Departments.

TERMS, ETC —The San Francisco Herald will be published every morning, and will be furnished to subscribers at 50 cents per week, payable to the Carriers single copies, 10 cents. It will be mailed to subscribers outside the city at Eighteen Dollars a year, payable in advance. 6 months, Nine Dollars, 3 months, Five Dollars.

Communications intended for the Editor should be addressed to John Nugent, 414 California street, San Francisco. Business letters may be sent to
THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD COMPANY.

Would thrill me like a lover's touch.

The trees would talk with me; the flowers
Their hidden meanings soon make known
The olden lore revived once more,
When man's and nature's hearts were one.

And as the pardoned pair of old
Back to the garden God first framed,
And hear Him call at even-fall,
And answer, "Here am I," unashamed.

So I, from out these folds of [illegible]
The Eden earth grows starred and dim,
Would walk, a child, through Nature's wild,

Stamping Out Small Pox

From the S. F. Bulletin Jan. 6

But for a plentiful lack of vigor on the part of the authorities, and of conscientious attention on the part of many physicians, the scourge that has prevailed in this city would have been checked long since. The one grand preventive—vaccination—has never had a thorough trial yet, and has come into disrepute with many simply because of failure through negligence or inefficiency. There are plenty of examples to prove that prompt and thorough employment of vaccination will control variola. Many of these we have noticed, and now give another of striking significance. During the late civil war the small-pox made its appearance at Richmond and other points in the Confederacy, exciting great alarm, and threatening to be more fatal than the Union arms. Prompt council was had; the opinions of prominent medical officers of the rebel army were submitted and acted upon. Great vigor was infused into every movement; as life and death were at issue, and the fate of the Confederacy itself was at stake. Prompt measures were taken to vaccinate every man, woman and child in Richmond, by compulsion; commencing with Davis and so down to the humblest camp follower. Six young and active physicians, armed with full authority, were sent into the surrounding country, north, south, east and west, vaccinating, as they went, white and black; returning at the proper time, on their former track, they collected the vaccine matter from the healthy children of well-known healthy parents, and in a few weeks there was in Richmond enough of healthy matter to vaccinate the whole Confederacy. These vigorous measures ended the matter; the disease was literally "stamped out" in a few weeks, by a well-directed effort. Will our physicians make a note of it?

The United States steamer Lackawanna arrived in this port a few days since. On casting anchor, her surgeon, Dr Bloodgood, at once sent on shore and obtained the necessary virus for inocculation, and vaccinated every man and boy on board, from the captain to the cook. Who will not say he was a wise and humane man, prompt in the discharge of his duty? Will our officials make a note of it likewise?

Let us have no more half-way measures. If any blockhead or any doubting or incompetent official stands in the way, shove him one side and go to work like sensible men. Perambulating carts exhaling chlorine gas, are of about as much use as to attempt to put out a conflagration with a Squirt-gun Vaccinate!

THE JACKSONIAN POLICY.—One of the papers having expressed a hope that President G. will prove a second Jackson, the New York Tribune goes on to say:

There is no tradition in American politics more absurd than this Jacksonism. The administration of no President shows a greater disregard of public justice than that of Andrew Jackson. No executive policy has been productive of so many bitter results. The legacies that came from him have had their consequence in war and public calamity. President Jackson debased our politics, and brought into life the principle that "to the victors belong the spoils." He was an imperious, despotic man, rarely governed by considerations of law, and sometimes not even by considerations of honor. His treatment of Mr. Clay, especially after the election of Mr. Adams, would have procured his dismissal from any well-conducted jockeyclub. The best that can be said of Jackson is, that with all his narrowness and obstinacy he was a thorough American nationality. But he was such a President as we hope never again to see, and we should be very sorry to find Gen. Grant deliberately accepting him as a model.

CHANCE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO., SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Seully have been obliged for their own protection and the safety of the public, to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to
MERCADO'S
Native California Wine
BITTERS

We subjoin the following affidavit in an injunction suit formerly pending between Mercado & Seully, plaintiffs, and A. Simon, defendant.

P. Sainsevain, being duly sworn, says, "That the article known as Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters was manufactured by Mercado & Seully about the month of March, 1864, without the said Sainsevain Brothers having any concern in the manufacture thereof. The deponent has always known and considered said Mercado & Seully as the Sole Proprietors of the Sainsevain California Wine Bitters."

Notwithstanding the above affidavit the said P. Sainsevain is putting up a compound under the name of Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters, representing it to be the same as our celebrated Bitters, which we have been manufacturing and selling in immense quantities since 1864, and also affixing a nearly similar label to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BE NOT DECEIVED! Send for
NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS,
And you will obtain the same popular beverage so favorably known since 1860. Beware of Counterfeits! Purchasers of our Wine Bitters are requested to observe the familiar old yellow label, and see that the words, "MERCADO & SEULLY, SAN FRANCISCO," are engraved on the Government stamp pasted over the cork of each bottle. This is the only effectual security against the counterfeit imitations.

NOTES.

Proposals must be to carry the mail with "celerity, certainty, and security," using the terms of the law, and they must be guaranteed by two responsible persons, certified to as such by a postmaster or judge of a court of record.

No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be satisfactorily explained, for neglecting to take the mail from or into a postoffice; for suffering it to be injured, robbed, or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running vehicles on the route. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for disobeying the post office laws, or the instructions of the Department. He may alter the schedule of departures and arrivals, and also order an increase of service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may also curtail or discontinue the service in whole or in part, at a pro rata decrease of pay, allowing one month's extra compensation on the amount of service dispensed with. Bids should be addressed to the "Second Assistant Postmaster General," superscribed "Proposals, State of Oregon," and sent by mail.

For forms of proposal, &c., and other information, see advertisement of this date, in pamphlet form, at the principal post offices.
ALEX. W. RANDALL,
j11dlaw4w Postmaster General.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
Weekly Oregonian.
FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent, the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State, and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its readers and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles, it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST, but to everything of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,
AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS
Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana,

TELEGRAMS FROM

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

Commercial Reports

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware, and General Market Reports of Portland, and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be, as it has been, the foremost in the State in the field of journalism. Being firmly established, it will go forward with confidence, making new plans for improvement and usefulness, and hopes to gain increased circulation and support.

TERMS:

One Year	$3 00.
Six Months	2 00.
Three Months	1 00.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been a favorite paper for mailing to friends in the East. It will be mailed from the office at subscription rates.

Subscribers will find on each paper, with their names, the date on which their subscriptions expire, as entered on our books. In renewing, the name of subscriber and post office should be distinctly written.

All papers are discontinued at the end of the time for which they have been paid, the date of which is always printed with the name each week.

REMIT BY MAIL AT OUR RISK, in presence of Postmaster, or pay to the nearest authorized agent.

We ask our friends to aid us in extending the circulation of the OREGONIAN in every direction.
